SPEECH OF HON. T. J. BIGHAM

SHALL THE REBELS RULE?

The Democratic Financial Policy Exposed

Mr. Bigham addressed a large meeting of Republicans at Texas, Plum township, on Friday evening, September 4th inst., as follows:

FELLOW CITIZENS—The true issue in the present campaign is, shall these unrepentant rebels again be restored to power and be again permitted to rule this country? The proceedings of the New York Convention demonstrate that the rebel element of the South and the extreme Copperhead element of the North ruled that body. The platform, the candidates, aye, every issue made in that convention were all the work of Vallandigham, Wade Hampton & Co. Hampton has openly boasted that he dictated the only live issue in the platform. Frank Blair, who had for years denounced them with a bitterness that no other public man in the Union had done, was unanimously nominated because his letter was but the echo of this Hampton plank. Now, therefore, will you permit this open combination of unrepentant rebels and Northern Copperheads to again rule this country, as they boast they had ruled it for half a century before 1861? Their conduct at New York shows that they can rule this so-called Democratic party—or it had better be called the Demoniac party—for I would quite as soon be ruled by Demons from the infernal regions as by Vallandigham and his rebel associates. No, fellow-citizens, in our country, no party which has even been suspected of taking part against the country in a time of war has ever been permitted to again rule it. The tories of the Revolution live only in history. The Federalists of New England were suspected in the war of 1812 of not being true and had to pass away. Even that most patriotic of all parties existing in my day—the old Whig party was fatally damaged by a few of its leaders' outspoken denunciation of the Mexican war. If these facts be so, what shall we say of this modern Democratic or Demoniac party which furnished ninety-nine hundredths of the leaders of this wickedest and most infamous rebellion the world has ever seen? I have nothing to say of the rank and file who were misled by the leaders in whom they trusted. But I have to say of one and all the leaders in Pennsylvania, who in their platform of June, 1863, when Lee's rebel troops were almost within sight of Harrisburg, complimented the lion hearted Democracy of Ohio for their nomination of Vallandigham for Governor, that I do not fear their restoration to power during the present generation. No, no; they, like the Israelites of old, are a stiff-necked and rebellious generation. They will have to wander full forty years in the desert; their carcasses must be buried amid the burning sands of retributive justice. The Calebs and Joshuas—the young Cops, and Rebs, under twenty years of age—may hereafter enter the promised land, not the whole rebel crew that sinned against light and knowledge and conscience—their Moses leaders—Saint Andrew Johnson, the Saint Clement L. Vallandigham, the saint Horatio Seymours, and all the saints in this Democratic-Demoniac calendar—must be buried so deep in infamy that only Gabriel's trumpet shall ever disturb their slumbers.

STUPIDITY OF THEIR LEADERS IN THIS VICINITY.

Every intelligent voter knows that the true issue of this campaign is the sustaining or overturning of the reconstruction measures of Congress admitting back the late rebellious States. Frank Blair's letter [illegible] at all other issues. Wade Hampton says that is the only live issue. Pendleton and his greenback theories were all, as the Pittsburgh Post has repeatedly declared, buried deep under [illegible] money-bags. Yet strange to say, the handbills calling their meetings, the speeches made by their recognized leaders in this vicinity, and even the editorials of the Pittsburgh Post, are all based on the theory that the young eagle of the West is their candidate—that greenbacks vs bonds is the issue. This is a cunning device of Senator Wallace, who issues his circulars telling them never to refer to the events of the last eight years, but to charge upon the Radicals all sorts of crime, and even Seymour writes to press home taxation, currency, &c.

But at the South and East all this stuff of greenbacks for bonds is never broached. The South will listen to nothing else but Frank Blair's new rebellion to overthrow the reconstruction measures by armed force. And some of the more imprudent of their southern leaders have already declared that if Horatio Seymour hesitates about heading this armed rebellion, that another Wilkes Booth will be found to dispose of him, and then Frank Blair will make all right.

In this local latitude, however, all these diabolical designs of unrepentant rebels and copperheads are sought to be concealed, and the mercenary spirit of the masses is to be appealed to. Greenbacks vs Bonds is the battle cry, and even working men are appealed to to vote for double-dyed copperheads and traitors to lighten their taxes. I will return to this appeal in proper time; but in advance, I denounce it as a cunningly contrived fraud to attempt to conceal the cloven foot of treason and copperheadism. I do not pretend to say whether Senator Wallace, the Post or the [illegible] into the support of the worst type of unrepentant rebels and copperheads.

CONSTITUTIONALITY OF RECONSTRUCTION MEASURES.

The vital plank in both the Chicago and New York platforms—the turning point of this campaign—is the constitutional power of Congress to reconstruct the eleven lately rebellious States, and again admit them to their full rights as States in the National Union. The twaddle that we have listened to during the last two years as to whether these eleven States have been within or without the Union I shall not notice. Their representatives in Congress in 1861, disregarding their oaths to support the Constitution of the United States, and adding the guilt of perjury to that of treason, insultingly went forth from the Halls of the Senate and House and proceeded to organize an adverse and hostile government to that of this Union. They organized within our bounds a traitor government whose corner stone was human slavery. They called into existence an army and navy. They labored more than four years to overturn by arms [illegible], and all its free institutions, and to [illegible] in their stead the traitorous slave [illegible] "Jeff. Davis & Co." Now, I don't care a button [illegible] these Copperheads recognize these slave [illegible] of their own as within or without its [illegible]. Their appeal was to the God of battles, [illegible] that God their oligarchies were overthrown, their armies and navies conquered, their people, by all the usages of civilized warfare, were a conquered people, their lives, their liberties, aye, all their property became that of the conquerors. Now, I should think these [illegible] should have something to say before restoring these rebels back to their full rights [illegible] Union. And yet not one traitor out of eight millions has been hanged; their forfeited liberties have not been taken away. Their untold millions of personal and real estate have not been confiscated to pay the enormous national debt saddled upon us. All that we ask is not indemnity for the past, but security for the future; that these States shall hereafter be ruled by patriots and not traitors. Has the world in its six thousand years' history shown another such example of christian liberality and forbearance by a conquering to a conquered people? If so, point me to the page in human history that contains the record. I say no such record exists. I say, further, that these conquered rebels in 1865 knew and recognized this as a clemency far greater than they had a right to expect, and had not Andrew Johnson and the leading Copperheads of the North become the tempters of the South, this contest would never have arisen. I firmly believe that the history of this country, when all the present actors have passed away, will record that the Northern Copperheads have instigated the following crimes:

First, The Southern rebels in 1860 and 1861, never would have attempted this terrible rebellion, but for the thousand pledges voluntarily given to them by the Northern Copperheads to stand by them in all contests with the free North.

Second, That these same Southern rebels never would have stood out when Abraham Lincoln, of sainted memory, issued his warning that if submission to the Union did not come within six months, the military power of the country should be pledged to abolish once and forever human slavery.

Third, That these conquered rebels would have willingly, aye, gladly accepted the liberal guarantees for reconstruction and readmission to the Union, contained in the fourteenth constitutional amendment, and would long since have been readmitted to all their rights in the Union, had not the perfidy of Andrew Johnson, and the abominable crime of the leaders of Northern copperheadism, instigated them to stand out with the hope of thus securing the ascendancy of the so-called Democratic, or Demoniac party, power in this country. And I religiously believe that so enormous is this guilt that its authors will go forth wanderers and vagabonds, with the mark of Cain upon their brow.

The issue tendered by Wade Hampton, Frank Blair and the New York platform is [illegible] these securities for the future, imposed by a loyal Congress, are "usurpations and unconstitutional, revolutionary and void." Not voidable, and liable to be repealed, but now void, and of course Blair's letter draws the necessary logical conclusion, to be set aside by rebellion and military force. Let us therefore briefly inquire into the authority of the conquering Union [illegible] conditions for security upon the conquered rebels. Originally by the laws of nations and usages of war, all the property of the conquered was confiscated, their liberties forfeited, and millions of human beings have been by their conquerors sold into slavery, and even their lives might be taken away. Now, I admit modern civilization has to some degree modified these harsh laws. But this modification has not extended to limit the right for guarantees for future security. Conditions ten times more severe than any here imposed would be sustained by the laws of nations. Now, all the power of the government is vested in Congress in this case. President Johnson only pretended in 1865 that he, ex necessitate, had exercised this power temporarily until Congress convened. If not in Congress, it is nowhere.

But further; the thirteenth constitutional amendment adopted in 1865 abolishing slavery had vested in Congress absolute power to give full efficiency to that amendment. Protection to [illegible] of human beings lately in a state of slavery was one of the necessary incidents thereby vested in Congress. Fully one-half of the reconstruction acts of Congress can be justified on this ground alone. But still further, the entire series of reconstruction measures are provided for in the fourteenth constitutional amendment. The reconstruction acts of Congress were forced upon that body by the perfidy of Andrew Johnson and his Copperhead allies in encouraging the rebels to resist. Now, most of these acts were passed, it is true, before the final ratification by the requisite number of States of this amendment. Now, however, by the concurrent proclamation of the Executive Department and the joint resolution of Congress, this fourteenth amendment is a part of the National Constitution. Thirty of the thirty-seven States have ratified it. The pretended withdrawal of their assent by the Democratic Legislatures of New Jersey and Ohio only served to show their teeth without doing any good to their rebel friends.

If, therefore, the rights of the conquering party, and all the laws of nations applicable thereto; the uniform usages of our own government [illegible] drawn from three different sections of the old constitution, and the full grants contained in the thirteenth and fourteenth amendments—if all these cannot give Congress the power, then human language cannot give it. The wisdom or expediency of these measures, I am not going to argue, because every thing in their platform, by their own concession, is made to turn on a denial of the power to reconstruct. The criminal who puts in the plea of an alibi, or pleads justification and challenges the power of the commonwealth on such issues, cannot afterwards turn around and further deny the grade of the crime with which he is charged. So too the rebel and the copperhead who deny the authority of Congress over them, challenge us to try this sole issue, and cannot now turn around and say these reconstruction measures have more sharp corners on them than are agreeable. Had you made your issue on that we could easily demonstrate that the guarantees for future security are the lowest possible, compatible with the future safety of the Republic. And we again challenge the most thorough reader of human history to find a parallel wherein rebels of such a magnitude as this have had imposed upon them by their conquerors terms so generous and so magnanimous as these. Ah, had the boot been on the other leg; had we been the conquered party, no such terms would have been tendered us.

FINANCIAL MEASURES.

The most ultra Copperhead organs long prior to the meeting of the New York Convention had led off in the advocacy of certain financial theories, which were intended to terminate in the repudiation of the entire national debt incurred in the suppression of the rebellion. The most outspoken and frank of these organs have never pretended to deny that such was their motive. The more cautious kept their motive in the background, but the entire tone and temper of the whole crew demonstrated this intention. The openly recognized leader of these measures was defeated in that Convention, but these organs all unite in declaring that their theories are incorporated in the platform, and the manner in which the campaign in this vicinity has been conducted demonstrates such to be their intention. Castor oil they fear to prescribe, but the sugar-coated pills of greenbacks for bonds they expect you to swallow.

I care nothing for the bloated bondholders they talk about. The Belmonts and the Jay Cookes may take care of themselves, and I have no doubt will do so. All I ask is to decide this issue wickedly thrust before the people on principles consistent with national honor and national prosperity. The measures advocated by them would, I believe, be a disgrace to the nation and fatal to our material prosperity. Now I have no personal interest in the payment of these bonds; like Seymour, I never owned one. I know, however, in that darkest hour of the struggle to put down this rebellion, that next to shouldering a musket and marching to the front, I recognized the patriotism of the citizen who demonstrated his faith in the stability of our institutions by advancing his money to sustain the soldiers in the field. The Chicago Platform expresses exactly my own convictions, when it denounces repudiation as a crime, and I will add in the maxim ascribed to the elder Napoleon, "Aye, worse than a crime, a blunder." In the spirit of that pithy maxim, I believe this nation, if she would attempt to follow the bad advice given her, would incur everlasting disgrace and fail to be benefited one dime.

For one I am not frightened by the magnitude of this debt, although its almost untold millions demonstrate the terrible turpitude of the leaders who constructed this New York platform. Had the law of nations been inforced, and the whole property of the rebels and their sympathizing Vallandigham followers been confiscated, only justice would have been done. As it is, I only propose to consign the authors of this immense debt to everlasting infamy, and that the honest taxpayer shall manage this rebel legacy economically, so as to get all the benefits from it possible.

Whether the five-twenties shall be redeemed in gold or greenbacks, it will be time enough to determine fifteen to eighteen years hence, when they are due and payable. Long before that time, I hope they will be funded at a low rate of interest, and this mooted question will never be a practical one. At all events in solving it, let patriots be consulted, and trust not to the counsels of these modern Greeks, sending presents of wooden horns plated with gold. Like the ancient gifts they conceal armed men, disguised to steal away your liberties and destroy your free institutions. I do not want to see it paid off, nor even very largely reduced during my lifetime. I want to see it as soon as possible funded at say four per cent. interest, and serve as a basis of a genuine American system of finance, which I am sorry to say we have never had. I do not want to see one of our American bonds held abroad. I want to see the money necessary to pay a low rate of interest upon them annually raised at our Custom Houses to check the excessive importation of foreign goods. These tariff duties and a reasonable tax upon the intoxicating liquors and tobacco produced in our country will meet this annual expenditure. The recent legislation of Congress has been taking the right direction, and if steadily persisted in will bring us out all right.

Now, in its best estate, what does this greenbacks for bonds mean? Why, simply that Government shall escape the payment of the annual interest upon its debt, and that the whole of that annual interest multiplied fifty fold shall be charged upon the private citizen. No one can doubt that the daily transactions of the private citizens are fifty times the amount paid by all departments of Government. Now, this scheme of debasing the currency proposes to save Government $150,000,000 annually and to charge fifty times that amount upon the every day transactions of the citizen. Of course this could not be endured, and the result would be a speedy repudiation of the entire debt.

This, too, is what the more candid advocates of these crafty financial schemers admit they mean to accomplish. The very agitation of these measures has within the last six weeks run up gold from ten to fifteen per cent. And if with less than four hundred millions of greenbacks in circulation gold is 145, what would it be if you add twenty-one hundred millions more? Any of your boys going to school can work out this sum in the rule of three. The answer would be 700 as the price of gold. Suppose, however, as the more moderate ask, they substitute greenbacks in lieu of the 5-20 bonds, and then, instead, you would have gold at [illegible].

Our currency during the state of war is unavoidably deranged, but the true interest of every workingman, of every quiet business man is that we shall slowly and surely approximate specie payment. It may take from five to eight years to reach that with safety to all interests. But all schemes tending in the opposite direction are madness. Crazy dreamers that don't know the alphabet of finance talk [illegible]. It may lessen the moral turpitude of their conduct that they understand not the doctrines which they daily and nightly expound.

The workingmen of this vicinity have been appealed to to sustain these crazy schemes of financial ruin, on the ground that it would inure to their benefit. If there is any man in this country to whom all such quackery is utter ruin, it is those known as the workingmen. The pretended leaders now haranguing them—if their own theories were attempted to be reduced to practice—would be tarred and feathered by their victims.

And yet we have candidates on this so-called Democratic or Demoniac ticket going around the county promulgating these crafty schemes, and endeavoring to persuade workingmen to vote for them on such a platform. Not only advocating, but nightly challenging somebody to come forth and answer their twaddle. If Dixmont was not crowded to overflowing, I should recommend them to the custody of Dr. Reed instead of sending them to Harrisburg and Washington. The out and out Copperheads [illegible] in consideration of the horrible teachings of their leaders, but those candidates in the mule team that pretend to have been once enlightened by honest Republican doctrines, should be confined at once.

THE PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES.

The candidates are fitting representatives of the platform and principles of their parties. Horatio Seymour, the son of a New York Canal Commissioner, was brought up in the corruptest school in the United States. A Hunker of the deepest dye in the politics of New York until the breaking out of the war, and ever since the superior of Vallandigham in intellect and prudence, he has not quite so openly promulged the doctrines common to both. In the Chicago Convention of 1864 and that of New York in 1868, he in the chair and Vallandigham on the floor, acted in hearty concert in declaring the war a failure and peace the remedy, and they now propose to inaugurate a new war to restore the rebels to office and the Democratic Demoniac party to power. I do not pretend to deny that Seymour is a man of intellect; so is Jeff. Davis, and so, too, in a much stronger sense is Satan, and I do not know that I have much choice between the three. If the rebels and Copperheads desire a fitting representative of their principles let them vote for his demoniac majesty at once, and the country will recognize the eternal fitness of the selection.

General Grant is emphatically the progressive representative man of the living principles embodied in the Chicago platform. His quiet, firm reticence is absolutely sublime, in view of his past deeds, and future purposes. Less than eight years since he was an almost unknown resident of Galena; to-day his fame is world wide. No difference how mighty the responsibilities of conquering armed treason, or reconstructing rebellious States, Grant has stood amid the shock of battle and been ready, wisely and patriotically, to reconstruct the fragments of conquered States. His wisdom in council, his calmness in danger, his firmness in administration equals that of George Washington.

We are sneeringly told that he cannot make a speech. His military campaigns of 1862-3-4-5, his civil administration of the rebellious States in 1866-7-8 defy Copperhead criticisms. "Ah, but you must admit he has had no practical statesmanship." What are the knotty questions which will task the new administration for four or eight years to come?—for we expect to reelect Grant until copperheadism and rebellion are crushed to dust.

Where in the world can you find a man whose practical experience in ruling the lately rebellious States equals that of the Lieutenant General of our army. We, therefore, want him at the head of our civil affairs, until the tidal wave of his vigorous administration will cover Copperheadism like Sodom and Gomorrah beneath a lake of brimstone.

A Veteran Voter and Printer.

J. Clark, a resident of Tarentum, this county, writes the COMMERCIAL for a supply of the campaign sheet, and in concluding, says:

"A few days ago I made a transit over the line of eighty-six to the eighty-seventh year of my pilgrimage on earth. On turning over some old papers I stumbled on my indentures, which put me in a notion of applying for a county banner for being the oldest printer and the oldest Republican in the county. They are dated May 16, 1799, by which I voluntarily bound myself to serve William Pechin, book and job printer of the city of Baltimore, three years and six months, for learning me the "art, trade and mystery of a printer," and I faithfully fulfilled my engagement. During the early part of my apprenticeship political excitement ran high between the Federal and Republican parties, and Mr. Pechin started the Baltimore American, in aid of the Republican cause. This identified me with the party, and if my life and health are spared until November, I shall deposit my sixteenth ballot for the Presidential nominees of the Republican or Whig party, and am willing still to do a little for the cause, and hope to live to see Grant and Colfax triumphantly elected."

The Governor of Georgia has sent a message to the Senate regarding the action of that body in declaring the seats of colored members vacant. The Governor protests against the action of the Senate as unconstitutional and in direct opposition to the spirit of the Convention which framed the State Constitution under the reconstruction act; claiming that electors were judges of the qualifications of persons elected to represent them, and assuming that if all male inhabitants of the State had a free voice and place in the new State government, the majority would keep it in harmony with the National administration, and where all could enjoy equal civil and political rights, there would be no just cause for dissatisfaction.

REV. WM. EVANS AT THE ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—This gentleman gave a series of readings last evening, to an intelligent and highly appreciative audience. His programme consisted of selections from favorite authors, and four chapters of Dickens' Nicholas Nickleby. The gentleman has a very pleasant and well cultivated voice, is a thorough elocutionist, and reads and imitates with remarkably fine effect. The audience were delighted, and frequently greeted the reader with rounds of applause.

STATE NEWS.

The corner stone of the Lutheran Memorial Chapel, Harrisburg, will be laid on Sunday next.

The Harrisburg cotton mill has suspended operations for the present to permit repairs and some alterations in the machinery. Upon resumption of business some of the machinery will be devoted to the manufacture of a coarser article of goods than that previously made.

A breach of promise of marriage case was recently tried in Berks county; Maggie R. Loo was the plaintiff, and George D. Raudenbush the defendant. The jury awarded Maggie the sum of $2,000 as a balm for her blighted affections.

The engine "Pennsylvania," used as a pusher on the Reading Railroad between the Falls and Port Richmond, is said to be the largest locomotive in the United States. It has twelve driving wheels, and weighs over forty-four tons. There are only two larger locomotives in the world, and they are used on the Mount Cenis Railway.

On Monday evening the second express freight train west, and the first Altoona freight train east, collided at Cresson. Both engines were broken by coming in contact with each other, and seventeen cars more or less damaged. No one on either was seriously injured.

Tuesday morning a man named James Tate, Jr., got on the train at Columbus and rode to Landisville, with the intention of coming West. He had in his company a lady, and arriving at that place, after bidding her farewell took his seat in the cars. He again got off the train, when it started off, and in attempting to get on he missed his foothold and fell under the cars, the wheels passing over and killing him instantly.

THE HARRISBURG Journal warns the Republicans of Pennsylvania, in view of the frauds by colonization which the Democratic leaders are preparing to perpetrate, to be on their guard. There is abundant proof that extensive importations of voters from Baltimore and New York, and all along the border, will be attempted. This caution has reached us from various sources, and we exhort Republicans everywhere to be on their guard, and early prepare to frustrate the designs of the enemy.

THE Democratic journalists [illegible] purporting to have been sent from the office of the New York World, to the effect that the Republican majority in Maine was less than 10,000. [illegible]

A Boston contemporary says "the New England Democrats are pretty well convinced of the frauds into which they were beguiled in New York." This conviction is by no means confined to the Democrats of New England. It has become universal. That the rank and file of the party should evince a disposition to hold the leaders to a strict account for the blunder committed in Tammany Hall, and resent the attempt to procure an indorsement of the concessions then made to the leaders of the rebellion, is perfectly natural. Since all hope has fled, complaints of this character have become frequent and outspoken [illegible] in this quarter, and we presume such is the case elsewhere.

We are entirely satisfied that the Democratic leaders base what hope they have of carrying Pennsylvania on naturalization and colonization. We are entirely satisfied that frauds are perpetrated daily in the Courts, not only here in Pittsburgh, but all over the State. We ask, have Courts nothing to do, and does it necessarily follow that they must be machines, run by party hacks and unscrupulous demagogues? We are assured that in a single instance a few days ago, a dozen foreigners were fraudulently naturalized in one of our courts, and we have reason to believe that this sort of thing is going on all the while. Is there no way to prevent courts becoming dens of pollution? Have Judges nothing to say? Have they no discretion? Is fraud to be perpetrated at will? What Judge will improve the opportunity to earn the thanks of all right-minded citizens, by requiring that naturalization shall be in open court only, and that no certificate shall issue except after a thorough inquiry has been instituted into the applicant's qualifications and fitness to become a citizen of the United States? This great evil [illegible] an outrage that should be stopped.

MAINE.

The Democrats set out with the expectation of carrying Maine. At the very least, the Republican majority, 11,000, of last year would be materially reduced. Anything less would be a sad defeat, and foretell disaster in November. The Republicans accepted this view of the contest. If their majority was reduced, the result would have a bad look for them; on the contrary, should they maintain, especially should they materially increase their majority, the result would be proof that no such reaction as the Democrats were predicting was taking place or was to be feared. Should their majority reach 15,000, the victory would be complete, and in this view of the case the Democracy were generally disposed to acquiesce. The canvass was contested inch by inch, and the result is, the Republicans have not only maintained their majority, but increased it, not to fifteen thousand merely, but to twenty thousand, carrying all the congressional districts, the entire of one and all but some half dozen in the other branch of the legislature. The official vote, we are confident, will not materially vary the result from this. The vote for Governor cannot fall below twenty thousand more than a few hundred. It is more likely to go a thousand above.

THE OVERSHADOWING QUESTION.

The question which overrides all others is, to whose hands shall be committed the affairs of the nation—those who saved or those who did their utmost to destroy the Union? Growing out of this question are manifold considerations that address themselves to the judgment and conscience of men with an irresistible force. That the question itself assumes no more than is true, is too plain to be denied. "We shall win everything for which we fought," has been the boast of the Southern leaders ever since the nomination of Seymour and Blair. The extraordinary interest manifested by the disbanded rebel army arises from the simple fact, that what they failed to achieve by force will be at least measurably gained through the ascendancy of the Democratic party. No reasonable man would think of committing to the hands of a very recent enemy, especially if his hostility was still unappeased, the management of his affairs. While he might wish to live on terms of peace, and would strive to establish relations of amity, he would deem the surrender of his fortune and personal safety into the keeping of such an one too high a price to pay for peace and friendship. The risk would be too great. The only logical deduction would be that he would be betrayed and plunged in ruin.

It is evident that the Southern leaders have great objects to secure, and it is evident also that they have been seconded by the Democratic party. Among these objects, as Wade Hampton declared, is the restoration of the Southern States to their former condition, which, of course, means the prompt repeal of laws which have been rendered necessary by the issue of the war, the defeat of the rebels and the success of the armies of the government. In other words, things must be made the way they would have been had success instead of failure attended, and had the confederacy been able to dictate the terms for closing the war. We look in vain anywhere now for acquiescence in the result of the war. At first, and until the hopes of the Democratic party had grown so strong, there was professed acquiescence in the verdict of the struggle. But nothing of the kind now. On the contrary, that verdict is defied, and it is impossible to come to any other conclusion than that, concerning the National Debt, those who made the Tammany nominations and put forth that platform, on regaining power, would repudiate the National debt if the Confederate debt also were not paid. It is entirely [illegible] that the management of our finances should be confined to those only who were thoroughly in sympathy with the Government and [illegible] opposed to the Rebellion and all its objects. It would seem that there could be nothing more completely self-evident than this. [illegible]

We, therefore, say that the question which overrides all others in the present canvass is: Shall the affairs of the Government be committed to those who were true to it in the struggle for existence, or those who sought to destroy it? It matters little what view is taken of the greenback or other questions, if true men be not at the head of affairs. There can be safety in nothing but in having our affairs managed by men who assisted in the suppression of the rebellion. To elect those that did not, would be to court the worst of consequences; and whoever contributes to such a result will be without excuse in the time of calamity.

THE WORKING CLASSES AND THE GREENBACK QUESTION.

The disciples of Pendleton and Cary display wonderful proficiency in discussing and deciding questions of political economy. Having established to their own satisfaction the principle that by simply increasing the amount of money in circulation they also increase the profits of all business transactions, the rates of wages, etc., they next find it necessary to make out that a paper dollar is to all intents and purposes equally as good as a gold dollar. This seemingly difficult matter is accomplished in this way: As long, say these acute financiers, as you have a convertible currency based upon gold and silver, just so long your currency will depreciate, and in proportion as the latter becomes scarce or abundant. Let us, they add, consequently, create a currency which will derive its value from the stamp the Government places upon it, making the Government, not gold, the basis, and gold in a short time will cease to be of any more value than the paper.

These profoundly versed philosophers are thus guilty of the stupidity of arguing from the cause to the result, instead of tracing the result to the cause. Gold and silver, compared with other precious metals, diamonds and valuable gems, never rises above nor falls below a strictly defined standard. It is only when compared with convertible currency that it assumes an increased value, and just in proportion as it is the basis for two or ten paper dollars, the value of the latter will accommodate itself to the gold, not the gold to the paper. Starting out upon false premises, it is no wonder that the advocates of this absurd doctrine, which has been exploded time after time, should fall into the extraordinary error of confounding the shadow with the substance, and in creating an inconvertible currency based upon the credit of the Government, offer us in lieu of real money the reflected shadow.

In the first place, the people would delegate power to the Government to issue paper money based upon the actual wealth of the country, and in the next place the people would accept the paper thus stamped in lieu of hard money? Nonsensical as this theory is, we have heard it advanced with all the gravity which earnestness can impart. The extreme difficulty of rendering it perfectly clear to the comprehension of the masses alone has prevented the exponents of this theory from introducing it openly in the present canvass. Absurd as it is, however, it differs only in a degree from the theory that an inflation of the currency is beneficial to the country at large. Let us look at this question in the light of our past experience, and see wherein an inflation of the currency would benefit or injure us.

In 1860 gold was worth from a quarter to a half cent more than the paper dollar quoted at par. When Government issued the legal tender notes gold commanded a slight premium. With the next issue, the premium [illegible] became fixed. It did not advance, for the Government was abundantly able to meet its obligations. As the necessities of the Government grew more urgent, and issue followed issue, until every man could count his greenbacks, their value began to be regulated not by virtue of the Government stamp, but by their proportion to the gold and silver in the country. A sliding scale was introduced, with which the real and the fictitious money was measured. The prospect attending the war also operated against the paper money, the gold premium vibrating all the way from one hundred to one hundred and eighty cents on the dollar. With the restoration of peace, stability became in a degree insured, yet notwithstanding the fact that less than half the paper money is in circulation to-day that was in circulation during the war, gold now commands a premium from forty-two to forty-four cents on the dollar.

Now, how did this affect the mercantile, manufacturing and laboring world? The first experienced profits and losses in proportion as the premium on gold receded or advanced, and rendered business transactions uncertain. How did it affect the mechanic? Perhaps the best answer to this question has already been furnished by Mr. Seymour, who in his Albany speech said: "In the beginning of the war, a man would go to market with his money in his vest pocket, filled his basket and brought home some change; but as the war progressed, and greenbacks became more plentiful, a man was compelled to carry his money to market in his basket, and his marketing home in his vest pocket."

Of what value is twenty dollars a day to the workingman if the price of provisions, rents and clothing advance at even a greater ratio? On the contrary, whoever desires to do so can demonstrate that, just in proportion as the currency was expanded during the war, the real earnings of the working classes became less. Living rates and rents appreciated more rapidly than the expansion of the currency warranted. In all this, however, the present generation are simply experiencing some of the difficulties and embarrassments which succeeded the extraordinary expansion of the currency during the Revolutionary war, and the financial troubles of 1837, when mechanics worked for the merest pittance, and farm hands toiled through a whole season for their board alone.

And yet the party which advocate inflation pretend to be in sympathy with the workingmen! The demagogues who thus endeavor to hoodwink the people, who desire more greenbacks "to increase the demand and price of labor," to make money plentier, to move the crops, and to animate trade, can lay no claim to honesty or wisdom. There is not an intelligent workingman in this community who does not know that with a currency worth scarcely two-thirds of its face, his condition will be rendered infinitely worse when the amount in circulation is doubled many times, or who cannot perceive that a gradual return to specie payments is what the country requires. Instead of an irredeemable paper currency, the interests of the working classes demand a return to hard money as speedily as it is wise to do so—a currency which will be stable, instead of vibrating up and down like a barometer with every change of the financial atmosphere.

MASS CONVENTION OF THE 24th.

Preparations for a Grand Demonstration.

Three weeks ago it was determined by the State Central Committee, to hold a grand Mass Convention of the Republicans of Western Pennsylvania, in this city, and a Committee of Arrangements was appointed for that purpose, by the County Executive Committee, with Capt. H. S. Fleming as chairman. That committee has been energetically at work ever since, and their arrangements for the convention are about completed, and will be found in another column. The committee have the most gratifying assurances, from all quarters, that the demonstration will be one of the largest and most imposing ever made in the State during the memorable campaign of 1868. Large delegations will be present from all the adjoining counties, and the Republicans of "Old Allegheny" will turn out en masse. We can assure our friends from abroad that the latch-string will be out, and that all who visit us on that occasion will be cordially welcomed and hospitably entertained. Arrangements have been made with all the railroads centering here from the east, and especially the Pan Handle Railroad, for the running of special trains, and the issuing of excursion tickets.

The Republicans of Allegheny county have made the most liberal arrangements for taking part in the demonstration, and it is expected that every ward, borough and township will make a creditable display of the strength and enthusiasm on this occasion. In the line the various trades and associations will be fully represented, with such mottoes and devices as shall seem appropriate and attractive. The farmers will "fall in" by thousands, in wagons and on horseback, and testify their adhesion to the right, and their confidence in the man who conquered peace and wishes to maintain it. The Grant and Colfax Clubs, the Tanners' Clubs, the Grant Guards, and all similar organizations are now actively engaged in perfecting their arrangements for the grand gala day.

The convention will be held on the North Common, Allegheny, and the grand procession will form in [illegible] on the morning of Thursday, and march over a designated route to the place of meeting. Suitable stands will be erected, and speeches will be delivered by Hon. Edwin M. Stanton, ex-Secretary of War, Hon. Joseph R. Hawley, ex-Governor of Connecticut, ex-Governor Curtin, ex-Governor Pollock, and other distinguished gentlemen. General [illegible] will act as Chief Marshal of the procession, which will be composed of eight divisions, each under an Assistant Marshal, with the necessary subordinate officers. It is desirable that all clubs or associations intending to participate in the procession, should make their arrangements as soon as possible, if not already done, and report at once to the Chief Marshal.

A grand torch-light procession will take place on the night before the Convention, (Wednesday) in which all the Grant Clubs, Tanner Clubs, Boys in Blue, and other uniformed bodies will participate. This procession will be under the command of Col. [illegible] as Chief Marshal. It is expected to equal, if not eclipse, any night demonstration witnessed here during the Wide Awake excitement. All young Republicans, and Democrats who have grown gray in the service, will be found in the ranks, fully uniformed and equipped. The gallant "Boys in Blue," who have "marched to the music of the Union" in times past, will swell the ranks [illegible]

Our Republican friends of the two cities and county, who cannot join in the procession, are expected to "show their colors," and give countenance to the movement by a profuse and general display of flags, transparencies, and such other devices as may be appropriate to the occasion.

SMALL NOTES.

The opening of the next Parliament is expected about the 10th of December. From all accounts Disraeli is determined to make a desperate struggle for the retention of his office. The Liberals seem to be so confident of success as to neglect the most important matters essential to a victory. On the other hand the Tories never worked so hard, so constantly and so effectively as now. Every day undermines a prominent Liberal, carrying him over to the Tory ranks. Mr. Disraeli, rumor has it, has mapped out a scheme which will, if successful, make him the most popular man of his day. The main points of his project seem to be: 1. To pay off the Alabama claims. 2. To effect a settlement of the naturalization question. Here we have all the difficulties between the "haughty parent and her haughty offspring" smoothed over at once. 3. A new policy is mapped out for India. 4. Russia is to be kept in check at all hazards. The Central Asia question has been carefully examined, and England will see to it hereafter that the Russian bear keeps his paw to himself, instead of encroaching. And last, but certainly not least, the great leader is already endeavoring to educate his party to a new view of the Irish Church question. That he has the [illegible] and the courage to carry out these designs [illegible] character will pretend to deny. At least he can but fail.

THE MESSAGE FROM MAINE.

GENERAL AND PARTICULAR.

The communication of Mr. Janssen to the Astronomical Society of France, concerning the great solar eclipse, is said to be singularly interesting. In a telegram forwarded to Paris, he states that the eclipse has been successfully observed. He adds that the spectrum of the protuberances, which are seen around the black disc of the moon during totality, and which have long since been proved to belong to the sun, has been found to present a very remarkable and unexpected appearance. The conclusion drawn from the nature of the spectrum is that the protuberances themselves are gaseous. The English expedition report that a very successful observation also. In due time we will have the details, accompanied by the photographic pictures taken during the totality.

The Suez Canal, the dream of the Cæsars, the Ptolemies and Napoleons, is to be opened on the 1st of October. We alluded the other day to the difficulties which still remain to be overcome by the Superintendent of the gigantic enterprise, M. De Lesseps.

A correspondent of the Press says the spirit of lawlessness and intimidation which pervades Tennessee is only partially checked. Not a day transpires without the commission of devilish atrocities in West Tennessee, where armed gangs of Ku Klux are at work maiming and maltreating negroes. Murder and outrage stalk unwhipped throughout the State, but West Tennessee in particular is under the dominion of the Ku-Klux.

The Ku-Klux Democracy in the First Civil District of Tennessee, having burnt a church belonging to the colored people, and shot the colored man who was teaching school in the church at the time, the Democratic Club of the District clear their skirts of the transaction by passing the following:

Resolved, By the members of the First Civil District Democratic Club, that we deprecate the burning of colored school houses, and earnestly protest against any such act as contrary to law, unjust and impolitic.

As a matter of course every member of the Club which passed the above resolution is also a member of the Ku-Klux. But why should they "deprecate" the burning of colored school houses, or the shooting of white or black teachers? Such acts are not permitted to govern the Ku-Klux of Kentucky. Why should Tennessee aim to be more fastidious than Kentucky in this matter?

Agricultural labor is unremunerative in all countries, but in the West of England, if we may rely upon the statements contained in a paper read before the British Association for the Advancement of Science, agricultural laborers are paid even less than they receive in Austria. The rates of wages average is a week, out of which the laborer has to pay perhaps is 6d house rent.

In the Toledo Injunctors of this there were [illegible]

A shark [illegible] was recently caught at Eastport, Maine, that measured thirty-three feet in length, and had two powerful legs about three feet long, with feet like those of an elephant, to enable it to navigate the flats in search of marine vegetation. [illegible]

An Oregon paper offers as an explanation of the acrostic, "S. T.—1860—X," the following: [illegible]

It is asserted that when Grant was besieging Vicksburg, and Mr. Lincoln was besieged to remove him, Montgomery Blair was one of the loudest advocates in the Cabinet, and begged Lincoln not to remove him until he, Montgomery, had an opportunity of learning Frank Blair's opinion of Grant, whether he was the man for the occasion or not. Lincoln so Blair's friends say acceded to this proposition, as he was already disposed to Grant anyway, and waited until Frank Blair had forwarded to his brother Montgomery Blair his private opinion, which fully sustained Grant's capacity and ability. This occurred before Vicksburg fell, which effectually silenced all discussion on that subject.

STATE POLITICS.

MASS MEETING IN GREENE COUNTY.

Special Correspondence of Pittsburgh Commercial.

CARMICHAELS, September 14, 1868.

[illegible]

One hundred and sixteen "Boys in Blue," of Antrim, Franklin county, have signified their intention to vote as they fought. They are going for Seymour like they went for Lee.

The Dauphin County Republican Executive Committee have invited ex-Governor A. G. Curtin and Wayne McVeagh, Esq., to address the people of Harrisburg at an early day.

Governor Geary on Tuesday issued writs to the Sheriffs of the counties of Crawford, Mercer, Venango and Warren, composing the Twentieth Congressional District, ordering an election to fill the vacancy created by the death of Hon. Darwin A. Finney.

The Bucks county Republicans have nominated the following ticket: For Associate Judge, John Wildman; Assembly, Manoah Geary, Jonathan Davis; District Attorney, John W. McDowell; Commissioner, George Hart; County Treasurer, Thomas S. Cadwallader; Coroner, David G. Michener; Surveyor, Josiah S. [illegible]; Director of the Poor, Nathaniel H. [illegible]; Auditor, John Haldeman; Delegates to State Convention, George Lear, T. Paul Knight, Samuel B. Thatcher.

The Democrats of Northampton have nominated: For President Judge, Walter Lowrie, of Pittsburgh; Congress D. M. Van Auken; Assembly, George H. Goundie, Lewis H. Stout; District Attorney, James M. Porter; Sheriff George W. Walton.

The Democrats of the Twenty-second Senatorial District having failed to nominate a candidate against General Harry White, a Republican named Wm. K. Piper has been prevailed upon to announce himself as an independent candidate for State Senator. He will receive no Republican votes and it is doubtful if he polls the Democratic vote.

Brick Pomeroy is to address the Democracy of Reading to-night. The Reading Dispatch says he will be escorted into the city by Mosby's mounted guerrillas.

Major Charles Allen, a war Democrat, who participated in the war almost from its commencement to the close, will address a Grant and Colfax meeting in Dauphin county on the 22d inst.

POLITICAL.

Grant.

So, here's a final bumper,
While we all in chorus chant—
"For next President we nominate
Our own Ulysses Grant!"
And if asked what State he hails from,
This our sole reply shall be:
"From near Appomattox Court House,
With its famous apple tree!"
For 'twas there to our Ulysses
That Lee gave up the fight;
Now, boys, "to Grant for President,
And God defend the right!"

—Miles O'Reilly.

The little misunderstanding between the Pendleton and Hendricks wings of the Indiana Democracy, that had its origin at the New York Convention, has culminated in the removal of [illegible], the Pendleton chief manager in Indiana, from the Chairmanship of the Democratic State Central Committee, and the substitution of the Hon. Joseph E. McDonald, a warm personal friend of Senator Hendricks. The friends of the latter gentleman first forced Mr. [illegible] to sell the Sentinel, the organ of the Democratic party in Indiana, and now they have attempted to disgrace him with the party, by removing him from the Chairmanship of the State Central Committee.

Among the Kentucky Democrats most heartily in favor of the election of Grant and Colfax, are the following: William H. Wadsworth, the best speaker in Kentucky, member of Congress from 1861 to 1865, now Elector at large for Grant and Colfax; W. E. Hobson, late Brigadier General of volunteers, in 1866 Johnson candidate for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, now Republican candidate for Congress in the Third District; John M. Harlan, late Colonel of the Tenth Kentucky Volunteers, Attorney General of the State from 1863 to 1867, voted for Baker and supports Grant; John E. Newman, until lately Circuit Judge of the Bardstown Circuit, who voted for McClellan, now supports Grant; E. R. Bolling, first nominee of the Johnson men in 1866 for Clerk of the Court of Appeals, now Surveyor of the Port of Louisville; Dr. J. B. English, of Owen county, State Senator from 1861 to 1865, and W. W. Gardner, of Union, State Senator during the same years; J. H. Ward, Colonel of the Twenty-seventh Kentucky Infantry.

At the great Republican meeting in Providence, on Saturday evening, General Burnside thus plainly stated the reasons which would determine his vote in November: "I shall not only vote for General Grant because I think he is the embodiment of all these principles, but because I think he is a gallant and true soldier, and a sincere friend of his country. I shall vote against Mr. Seymour because I think he was an enemy to his country when it was in trouble."

The Atlanta (Ga.) New Era says of the telegraphic dispatches sent from the South: We remind our readers that the Southern telegraphic lines are in the hands of Democrats, and the coloring given to election and other political news must be read with due allowance. We pay our telegraph bills promptly to the minute, and would be very glad if we were always furnished with what is true, regardless of whom it hurts.

At the Turner Festival at Morrisani, New York, General Franz Sigel was the orator of the day. After discoursing upon the history and character of the Turners' Society, which he said was organized in Germany in 1811, for the improvement of mind and body, he concluded by saying that while it was not an appropriate occasion for a political speech, he "would rejoice to know that the Turners would vote with the party whose principles are like their own, and who are for equal rights to all men."

Belmont has sent $8,000 to Indianapolis in the charge of a gentleman named Payne, a member of Belmont's committee, to be used for political purposes in Indiana, Illinois and Missouri. Certain parties in Kentucky are also engaged in raising money to be expended in Indiana, or, in other words to be used in importing such persons in Kentucky who desire to continue voting, into Indiana.

Albert Pike has taken the stump in Missouri. His assurance has already damaged the Democracy, a number of prominent men having declared that they will have nothing to do with a man who raised a regiment of Indians to scalp Union men. That was Albert's intention, but he took good care to keep out of danger, and only scalped dead men.

The Cincinnati Commercial says the demonstration on the night of the 15th, in that city, was only excelled by the magnificent Wide Awake processions of 1860. When our Veteran Corps is fully organized in this city, there will be no exception in favor of the demonstrations of 1860.

This Company, National in its character, offers, by reason of its Large Capital, Low Rates of Premium and New Tables, the most desirable means of insuring life yet presented to the public.
The rates of premium, being largely reduced, are made as favorable to the insurers as those of the best Mutual Companies, and avoid all the complications and uncertainties of Notes, Dividends and the misunderstandings which the latter are so apt to cause the Policy-Holders.
Several new and attractive tables are now presented which need only to be understood to prove acceptable to the public, such as the INCOME-PRODUCING POLICY and RETURN PREMIUM POLICY. In the former, the policy holder not only secures a Life Insurance, payable at death, but will receive, if living, after a period of a few years, an annual income equal to ten per cent. (10 per cent.) of the par of his policy. In the latter, the Company agrees to return to the assured the total amount of money he has paid in, in addition to the amount of his policy.
The attention of persons contemplating insuring their lives or increasing the amount of insurance they already have, is called to the special advantages offered by the National Life Insurance Company.
Circulars, Pamphlets and full particulars given on application to the Branch Office of the Company in Philadelphia, or to its General Agents.
LOCAL AGENTS ARE WANTED in every City and Town; and applications from competent parties for such agencies, with suitable indorsement, should be addressed TO THE COMPANY'S GENERAL AGENTS ONLY, in their respective districts.

GET A GOOD SAW.
And Your Mill will do Good Work
Our Saws are Oil Tempered, Patent Ground, made to Run Well.
You will find each Saw of one Temper, no Hard and Soft Spots in the same Saw.
We accomplish this by our Patent Tempering Process, and you can not get this from any other Saw Maker, as we own the Patents for the United States.
We do not claim to make a cheaper Saw than any one else, but one that will run at the word Go, and will give no trouble, and will keep round longer; because being uniform with Temper, it will not wear on one side faster than the other.
We invite correspondence, or an interview with the practical man of your firm.

DR. SARGENT'S

BACKACHE PILLS

Is the most efficient and most popular Diuretic Medicine known, removing at once any obstruction of the Kidneys, Subduing Inflammation and Strengthening the Urinary Organs.

DR. SARGENT'S BACKACHE PILLS

Have been in use 35 years, and are daily performing wonderful cures. In many instances where patients were unable to walk upright or to rise without assistance, they have been relieved by a single dose.

DR. SARGENT'S BACKACHE PILLS

Cure all Diseases of the Urinary Organs, the symptoms of which are Weakness and Pain in the Back and Loins, Pains in the Joints, difficulty in Voiding the Urine, General Debility, etc., etc.

THE KIDNEYS, BLADDER, &c.,

Are those Organs through which most of the waste or worn out particles of the body passes; these worn out and dead particles are poisonous, consequently when these organs are diseased, the whole system becomes deranged and if not relieved at once the result may be fatal.

This much esteemed and most efficient Medicine is the only Diuretic that is put up in the shape of Pills, and is much more easily taken than the ordinary Diuretic draughts—the Pills being sugar-coated.

Price—50 cents per box.

The Celebrated Walter Grape.

After twenty-five years experience with the present leading and late varieties we know the Walter, now first offered, will restore confidence in Grape raising. It never rots. Its abundant sugar raisins it in-doors or on the vine; it is a great grower and bearer, and now contains 146 clusters of bloom; is very compact in cluster at the East, which is an advantage in marketing. We have not known the foliage to mildew. It succeeds in dry and very wet soil. Is a seedling of the Delaware, crossed with the Diana, and better than either. Ripens before the Hartford, therefore, the earliest, hardiest and best variety. No. 1, one year, $5 each, in advance. Orders filled in rotation, while supply lasts. No charge for packing. Send stamp for beautiful cut and opinions of many vineyards.

GRAND

OF THE

Republicans of Western Pennsylvania,

AT

PITTSBURGH,

THURSDAY, Sept. 24, 1868.

The Republican State Central Committee has ordered a GRAND MASS CONVENTION to be held in this city, on the 24th of September, inst.

The Republicans of Western Pennsylvania are urgently invited to come, en masse, and so help the good cause along.

Arrangements have been made with the following Railroads to issue Excursion Tickets and run Excursion Trains to and from the Convention: Pennsylvania Railroad and Branches, Western Pennsylvania Railroad, Allegheny Valley Railroad, Pan Handle Railroad and Connellsville Railroad. The Monongahela Packets will transport passengers at half rates.

The following Eminent Speakers are expected to be present:

Hon. EDWIN M. STANTON,
Gen. JOSEPH R. HAWLEY, of Conn.,
Ex-Gov. POLLOCK,
Ex-Gov. CURTIN,
Gen. JOSHUA T. OWENS,
Gen. J. W. FISHER,
Hon. A. K. McCLURE.

A Grand Torchlight Procession

Will take place on the night before the Convention, and all GRANT CLUBS and TANNERS' CLUBS are invited to take part in it.

A DAYLIGHT PROCESSION

Will form on THURSDAY MORNING, and the Republicans of the county are expected to turn out in full force, in wagons and on horseback.

The Republicans of the various districts of Allegheny county are earnestly urged to make arrangements, at once, for their share in the demonstration.

REPUBLICANS, let us have a Rally worthy of the days of 1860 and 1864, and keep the Ball Rolling which has been started in Vermont and Maine. All eyes are now turned upon Pennsylvania!

By order of the

STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE.

CITIZENS' TEMPERANCE Candidate for County Commissioner,

TO RAILWAY CONTRACTORS

The Graduation, Masonry and Ballasting of the following enumerated sections of the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad are advertised for contract, and Proposals for the same will be received at the Company's office, in Pittsburgh, up to the 20th of September inclusive, commencing at the Uniontown Branch Junction, about a mile east of Connellsville, sections 59 to 64 inclusive. Then sections 65, 73, 74, 76, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 106, 110, 112, 115, 116, 117, 118, 119, 122, 128, 129, 130, 133, 140. All of these sections are in the Valley of the Youghiogheny river, up to section 112 inclusive. Sections 115, 116, 117, are on the summits, and embrace the Sand Patch Tunnel, and the remainder are in the Valley of Wills Creek, section 140 being about five miles from Cumberland.

Specifications of the work on the above sections will be ready for delivery on the 1st of September at the offices of the Company at Pittsburgh and Cumberland, where Contractors will obtain all necessary information to enable them to examine the line. The Company reserves the right to reject all or a part of any bid.
